premier services and dedication

HOME SEARCH

When relocating to a new country or a new city, securing a suitable home is often a top priority. To support you, Human Entrance will assist with finding the most suitable home for you. The Home Search service also includes assistance with your lease negotiation, in order to secure you the most favorable terms.

The extent of your Home Search service may vary depending on your employer's policy, ranging from a self-help service, to full management of the entire process. Regardless the extent, the goal is the same; finding the most suitable home within your budget and in line with your preferences. Your Human Entrance Case Manager and our dedicated team of housing coordinators will guide you through the process of finding your new home.

The rental market in Sweden is highly competitive, and there is a deficit of rental apartments and houses. During our initial coordination call, we will go through the rental market and its challenges in further detail.
